REVIEW OF THE PAST WEEK.

CHICAGO, September 16.—The week just closed has been a notable one on Change, marking, as it does, the return of activity and free speculative trading. Corn shows much strength, and it is a dangerous market to sell largely short in. There is always a lively demand on the weak spots, despite the warm weather. While the outside prices of the week are above the present ideas of the crowd, yet the market is very responsive, and any large buying or unfavorable crop news advances it rapidly. Any threatened frost this week would be almost sure to start another boom.

First estimates of the harm done by frost a week ago are being reduced, it appearing that many of the most alarming dispatches were sent by parties who had corn to sell or who were interested in bulling it for speculative purposes. The damage, however, must be conceded to be serious. The estimated reduction is 15 per cent in Iowa and Northern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and 50 per cent in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, with Southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio together with Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri regarded as safe. Information showed a probable yield of 1,641,533,000 bushels before the frost, reduced thereby £2,293,000 bushels.

The same parties who are bullish on corn look with distrust on wheat, although it held up well during most of week. With a visible supply of 23,514,992 bushels, and no demand from any source, it seems folly to look for any healthy advance at present. There is more than 6,000,000 bushels in elevators here, and 2,000,000 bushels at Louis, with the amount rapidly increasing. Oats have held very strong, responding whenever corn advanced, and being only partially so sensitive to declines. With the exception of corn, it is the only cereal which is moving out freely, continuing to be in request for shipment.

Some more demand for barley is noticeable, and there is a prospect of trade springing up agarn in this market after a long period of stagnation.

The visible supply of grain this week shows an increase of 2,110,000 bushels of wheat, 1,910,000 bushels of corn, and 1. 225,000 bushels of oats. There is more 225,000 bushels of oats. There is more wheat in sight than at this time in any year since 1877, and nearly twice as much as in 1882.

LIVE STOCK.

The continued large arrivals of live stock, while to be expected at this season, W. YATES, Cashier, for many years Cashier of the necessarily affect the stability of the mar kets and exert a depressing influence on prices. The receipts of all kinds have been very heavy during the week, amounting on one day alone—Wednes-day—to 18,000 hogs, 11,200 cattle and 2,500 sheep: and salesmen have suffered in consequence. At the opening of the week the run was not so heavy as on the previous Monday, and full former figures, in some instances better, were realized; but on Tuesday the offerings were so ampleas to more than meet the demand, so continuing until the closing days. The idvance made in the cattle market recently was entirely wiped out, and a feeling of weakness has succeeded. The higher grades of shipping cattle have suffered least, and there were not too many cally choice animals on sale were it not for the fact that shippers have held off for bargains and forced concessions. Prime export cattle are about 20 cents lower; the eastern markets are being supplied with choice steers at the same reluction, while common to fair and medium cattle were demoralized to the extent of 35 to 45 cents. The heavy break on low grades of natives was large ly on account of the heavy supply of range cattle; but had there been none of the latter there were too many of the former. Rangers, despite their plentiness, have held up well and have lost but part of what they gained last week. The run of Texaus has been large, and canners tried to secure considerable concessions but did not succeed in making much of a break in values. Stockers and feeders have been badly neglected, there being age of 25@35c. There were many very

The run of hogs has been very nearly the same as on last week and has been England to-day to conclude negotiations for really in excess of present requirements, Buyers have discriminated very closely, placing a block of these shares at London. As compared with last night's closing, prices are have been very satisfactory, yet there are too many poor, grassy hogs coming for-ward, which shippers would do well to hold back for the present.

The packers are making a determined effort to break the market to establish a ow range of prices for their winter operations, but with the probability of nuch dearer corn than expected and a nigher value for products, it may be that hey will be unsuccessful. The farmers will, to some extent at least, hold their hogs to feed their frost-damaged corn, or for better prices, which, if at all general cannot help but stiffen values.

The receipts of sheep are so unusuall large that the market is overstocked, and although there is an active city and ship ping demand, prices are laily declining being now 40@75c lower than last week There is a little change in the aspec of the western range cattle trade. The season is nearly half gone, and as ye there is little prospect of the shortage in the early shipping season being made good. True, the movement just at present is phenomenally heavy, but is is not expected to continue so. There are indications that ranchmen are preparing to take a more independent stand than i was generally supposed they could. Divi dends have lately been large, and ranch men, with few exceptions, are in good financial condition. They are better pre-pared to hold back their beeves than in former years, and, in view of all the conditions, will not have to make any serious sacrifices if they pursue their advan-

General Produce.

Has long been acknowledged and more so at this day than any other. The vast field of medical science is ever increasing, and its numerous branches are brought nearer and nearer to perfection, and no one man can any longer grasp them all Hence the necessity for dividing the labor. And it is true beyond all doubt that disease, affecting the genito-urinary organs need special study more than any thing else, if we would understand and know how to treat them properly.

DR. H. WAGNER is fully aware that there are many physicians, and some sensible people, who will condemn him for making this class of diseases a specialty, but he is happy to know that with most persons of refinement and intelligence a more enlightened view is taken of the subject, and that the physician who devotes himself to relieving the afflicted and saving them from worse than death, is no less a philanthropist and benefactor to his race than the surgeon or physician who by close apolication excels in any other branch of his profession. And fortunately for humanity, the day is dawning when the take philanthrophy that condemned the victims of folly or crime, like the lepers under the Jewish law, to die uncared for has passed away.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

Plain Facts Plainly Spoken.

At one time a discussion of the secret vice was entirely avoided by the profession, and medical works of but a few years ago would hardly mention it.

To-day the physician is of a different opinion; he is aware that it is his duty—disagreeable though it may be—to handle this matter without gloves and speak plainly about it; and intelligent parents and guardians will thank him for doing so.

The results attending this destructive vice were formerly not understood, or not pro; erly estimated; and no importance being attached to a subject which by its nature does not invite close investigation, it was willingly ignored.

The habit is generally contracted by the young while attending school; older companions through their example, may be responsible for it, or it may be acquired through accident. The excitement once experienced, the practice will be repeated again and again, until at last the habit becomes firm and completely enslaves the victim. Mental and nervous affictions are usually the primary results of self-abuse. Among the injurious effects may be mentioned lassitude, dejection or irras; ibility of temper and general debility. The boy seeks seclusion, and rarely joins in the sports of his companions. If he be a young man he will be little found in company with the other sex, and is troubled with exceeding and annoying bashfulness in their presence. Lascivious dreams, emissions and eruptions on the face, etc., are also prominent symptoms.

If the practice is violently persisted in, more serious disturbances take place. Great palpitation of the heart, or epileptic convulsions, are experienced, and the sufferer may fall into a complete state of idioty be fore, finally, death relieves him.

To all those engaged in this dangerous, practice, I would say, first of all, stop it at once; make every possible effort to do so; but if you fall, if your nervous system is already too much shattered, and conse quently, your will-power broken, take some nerve tonic to aid you in your effort.
